VOL. LXI. No. 24. REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1921. ESTABLISHED 1859

APPEARED ON RECORD IN YEAR 1867

E. F. Fitzpatrick filed in the superior court on Wednesday an application for letters of administration upon an ancient estate that first appeared on the calendar in 1867. John P. Weller, manager of the Bank of Italy, applies for letters upon the estate of David Jenkins, who died on December 23, 1867.

Shortly afterward the decedent's wife was appointed administratrix. She died some time after and while the estate was pending and undistributed.

The property of the estate consists of lots 7 and 8, block 5, not far from the Native Daughters' Park. It came into the possession of D. R. Stafford and his sister, Mrs. J. J. Murray of Menlo Park. Desiring to sell the holding and having secured a purchaser, the attorneys for the prospective buyers discovered the flaw in the title and hence the proceedings begun by Judge Fitzpatrick to remove it.

Jenkins was a captain who had charge of schooners landing from San Francisco in the sixties. He was a noted character in those days. Some time after his death his widow married "Happy Jack" Cordinelli, also a noted personage in the bygone days. The captain left two daughters, then minors, who left here in their youth. Oldtimers in the county, only a few now living, will recall the gallant captain and his good ship, "The Wave."

ADMINISTRATION OF PINKHAM ESTATE ASKED

Sarah M. Pinkham has applied in the superior court for letters of administration on the estate of Manly J. Pinkham, who died at his home in Pescadero on August 27, 1921, after a long illness. The estate consists of a ranch near Pescadero, cattle, horses and other live stock. The real and personal property is valued at $20,000. The heirs at law are two children, Sarah M. Pinkham, the well known school teacher, and F. C. Pinkham, both residents of Pescadero.

NO MORE DIVORCE SUIT WANTED IN MOORE FAMILY

The divorce suit of Jefferson M. Moore vs. Bertha A. Moore, that was filed recently in the superior court, was dropped Wednesday with the filing of a request for a dismissal by J. B. McClenahan and Ross & Ross for the plaintiff and Louis Oneal for the defendant. The application says that the differences between the two parties have been settled and that they are reconciled.

Following alleged difficulties of months, Moore filed suit charging Mrs. Moore with cruelty. She attempted to evade summons by disguising as a man, but was recognized by Deputy Sheriff Stanley Woods as she attempted to leave her Redwood Highlands home.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND REDWOOD CITY DURING WEEK

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Prominent People Prepared by Our Patent Pencil Pusher.

The Red Men's baseball team defeated the Menlo Park Native Sons' team on the local diamond last Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 4. It was one of the best games ever witnessed on the local diamond.

Miss Gladys L. Tavel, a pretty girl from Millbrae, was united in marriage yesterday in the parlors of the Congregational church to Jack Timmer, also of Millbrae. Rev. C. H. Stevens officiated. Mr. Timmer is employed in the Spring Valley power house at Millbrae.

The patronage of the Tamale Restaurant, 257 Main street, has increased 75 per cent this week. You can get the best home cooked meal in town there for 35 cents.

Fred H. Drake, who buys water from the Spring Valley for his distribution system in the town of San Carlos, has asked the railroad commission for an adjustment of rates to provide for the recent increase of 50 per cent allowed Spring Valley.

Miss Mercedes Pearce has gone to Fort Ross, Sonoma county, where she will enjoy three weeks' vacation before resuming her studies at Stanford University.

Walter J. Joachim, brother of Mrs. Carl K. Mabie and Miss Ellen Joachim of Redwood City, passed away at the United States marine hospital in San Francisco Monday morning. He was a native of Illinois, 48 years of age, a seafaring man by occupation and his duties carired him to every country in the world. During the war he served four years on one of the boats carrying soldiers and supplies between England and France and also between the latter country and the United States. Twice the vessel he was on was torpedoed by German U-boats, the second time his ship being sunk and the crew picked up by an English torpedo boat after the men had drifted about the sea for many hours.

Yesterday Redwood City resembled Goldsmith's deserted village, for all the Native Sons and Daughters and others at dawn sought the cooling shades of Halfmoon Bay, where the Native Sons 'big celebration took place. Crowds from all aprts of the peninsula participated in the event. It was a successful celebration, one that will be rememberd long by every Native Son and Daughter in San Mateo county. Admission Day is California's own holiday and it is ever dear to the heart of every Californian. The day was fully observed by the natives yesterday at the little city by the sea.

The Forty Hours' Adoration will commence in Mt. Carmel church Sunday morning at 10:30; services at 7:30 p.m., with sermon by Father Kennedy. Mass Monday morning and evening sermon by Father D. Kelly.

"OVER THE HILL" TO BE SHOWN IN REDWOOD CITY

Last September William Fox, the well known motion picture producer, engaged a Broadway theater for a week's showing of a new picture entitled "Over the Hill," which he had made from Will Carleton's celebrated "Farm Ballads." The producer figured that one week would be long enough to determine whether the public cared for the picture or not.

The picture is there yet. The public cared for it so much that twice daily ever since that day in September, 1920, the city of New York and its environs have been mustering enough attendants at "Over the Hill" to make it easily the most wonderful screen success of the day.

And this in face of the fact that the picture has no star or stars, designated as such; no massive grandeur in its settings, no sex lure, no melodrama; none of the things that had previously been emphasized to draw people to a film attraction. It has, however, one of the most beautiful stories that ever found its way to screen expression—a story so delightful in its humorous and heart-searching aspects that it is said to be safely in a class by itself.

Paul M. Sloane adapted the story for the screen and Harry Millarde directed it. The picture will be presented at the Sequoia Theatre in Redwood City on Monday and Tuesday, September 12 and 13, with a special matin Tusday at 2 o'clock.

MULBERRY TREES ARE NOW EXTINCT

No doubt many pioneers of this section will remember the silkworm adventure of N. Larco, who in 1872 purchased what is now known as the Macdouough ranch at Portola. There he planted 40 acres of mulberry trees on which the silkworm would feed. Larco was a member of the banking firm of Borel & Co. of San Francisco. He was a French nobleman and took a pride in his new venture. The enterprise was a failure. Larco suffered other financial reverses and becoming discouraged, he committed suicide on the ranch.

Many of the mulberry trees are still in existence, mute evidence of the Larco failure. They may be seen right off the Portola road not far from the Judge Allen ranch.

The San Jose News in a recent article quoting from the California Agriculturist, a publication of the early days of California, has this to say of the mulberry trees:

"Where is now the sound of a going in the tops of the mulberry trees? Where are the mulberry trees? They used to grow, 13,000 of them, at the Brissa farm, owned by N. Larco. This farm covered an eastern slope of the coast hills about five miles from Mayfield. On this 40-acre tract were planted several varieties of the silk producing mulberries. During the summer season—1872—it was estimated that the mulberry farm's production would be about 1,200 to 1,400 ounces of silkworm eggs for export to Italy, where the market price for the eggs was $5 an ounce. Larco, the "farmer," had a big dream, a dream of trees; but it has come true not quite according to his vision. Worms—silkworms—had to go! But the love of trees has covered the wide valley from blossomtime to the abundance of rich harvest."

REDWOOD CITY HARBOR IMPROVEMENT?

A dispatch from Washington on Tuesday would indicate that further improvement by the federal government of the Redwood City harbor was unfavorably reported by the army engineers. The people of Redwood City are not discouraged by the report, but will keep up the fight to secure an appropriation to improve the water front.

All members of Redwood Lodge, No. 650, Fraternal Aid Union, are requested to attend the regular meeting in Foresters' Hall on Tuesday evening, September 13, at 8 o'clock. Charles T. Cook expects to be present to give a report of the meeting of the supreme lodge from which he has just returned. Mr. Cook was the delegate from this district. Visiting members are cordially invited to the meeting.

Emmet Gunning was here from the southern part of the state during the week visiting his mother and sister residing on Heller street. It is several years since Mr. Gunning visited Redwood City. He saw many changes since he was last here. He believes there is no place like the peninsula.

Dr. J. G. Null, the well known physician and surgeon with offices in the Wahl building, returned during the week from a ten days' hunting trip to Medicine Lake, Siskiyou county. The doctor is a noted hunter, a dead center shot. He brought with him two fine specimens of mule deer, each having seven prongs and weighing 150 pounds. The doctor says that deer are quite plentiful in that region.

Dr. Albert Milliken, a former Redwood City young man, called on his friends here during the week. He is now located in San Francisco, but for many years practiced at Fort Jones, Siskiyou county, where he amassed quite a fortune. His father was one of the pioneer physicians of Redwood City.

PROBATION GRANTED TO ANDERSON BY THE COURT

Frank N. Anderson, chauffeur, who entered a plea of guilty in the superior court last week to driving a car without the owner's consent, after a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of John O'Dea, a Menlo Park youth, on the night of June 26, had been dismissed, was granted probation for one year by Judge George H. Buck Saturday morning. Request that probation be granted Anderson was made by Mrs Louis Stern of Atherton, owner of the car and by whom the chauffeur was employed. J. J. Bullock represented Anderson in court.

MYSTERIOUS GIRL APPEARS IN REDWOOD CITY---POLICE ARE PUZZLED

Late Thursday evening a member of the night police force found a young woman near Perry's feed store walking up the railroad track toward San Francisco. She evidently came from the direction of Menlo Park.

When accosted by the night watchman she would not speak or explain where she was going. She was taken to the county jail. There Jailer Coleman tried every means in his power to have her speak, but she would not. The matron gave her food, but she would not eat nor would she sit down. She stares about in a vacant way. It is a sad case and a mystifying one.

The doctors cannot make it out and are puzzled. The young woman is no doubt troubled with amnesia. When brought to the jail she wore a neat dark dress of one piece and a straw hat trimmed with pansies. She is under 30 years of age and quite good looking. She stands continually.

How she may be identified is the problem with which the officers are wrestling. Where she came from and who she is no one knows. She evidently lost her reason and wandered away, probably from San Jose.

AL PLANS MADE FOR WHIST PARTY THURSDAY

Redwood City is promised the greatest whist party in its hitsory at the "housewarming" at the Hanson residence on Arguello street next Thursday evening to celebrate the taking over of the building and the grounds by the Mount Carmel parish, for use as a convent for the Sisters of Notre Dame and a home for their boarding pupils.

The affair is under the exclusive management of the Carmel Council, N. C. C. M., which makes its debut in society circles on this occasion. Several comimttees have been busily engaged during the past few weeks in providing for the comfort and the pleasure of those who attend.

The publicity committee, under the direction of Judge Griffin and E. T. McGettigan, has seen to the spreading of the "good news" to every quarter from which visitors could be expected. The card party will be directed by the "old reliable" John Layng, assisted by J. B. Perry and Lucien O'Connell. The finances, tickets and details of admisison are being cared for by the finance committee, consisting of Edgar M. Kennison, L. N. Pollard and Lisle Winter.

The prize committee, headed by D. R. Stafford and Guy P. Hull, has promised to secure prizes for the whist game and for the spectators exceeding in value and number those offered in any former affair.

Comte O'Connell and J. J. Shields will provide a high class entertainment during the promenade. An orchestra of seven performers has been secured for the promenade and for the dance which will follow.

Maurice P. Sarsfield, Owen O'Donnell and John P. Foley will be in charge of the refreshments.

A more beautiful residence would be hard to find among the many wonderful mansions on the peninsula. During all the years it has stood as a show place of our attractive city it has aroused in many a desire to enjoy a glimpse of the interior. This wish may be gratified on next Thursday night. Both grounds and building will be brightly illuminated. Ample accommodations will be provided all who attend.

The doors will be open at 7:30 p.m. The promenade and entertainment will commence at 8 and the whist game will start at 8:45.

Highpower or Hightower?

JUICE FROM THE COAST SIDE GIVES VISIONS OF STRENGTH—LOCAL CONCOCTION CAUSES HIGH ASPIRATIONS—MAYFIELD BOOZE MAKES THE JACK RABBIT BOLD—MOUNTAIN DEW BRINGS DREAM OF TOMCATS—TAKE YOUR CHOICE OF 'EM

There is a new brand of "moonshine" manufactured at Halfmoon Bay called "highpower," said to be able to kill at forty yards. It is having a big run. A bootlegger in Redwood City is jealous of this and contemplates manufacturing a similar brand of moonshine which he will name "hightower." He ought to be successful in its sale.

They will have to compete against Mayfield generator of joy, who is confident that if a drop of his concoction is placed on a jackrabbit's tongue he will become sassy enough to spit in a bullog's face.

But farther back in the hills is one who makes real lightning juice. One who has tested it says that drinking it is like trying to pull a tomcat through a knothole by his tail.

Down at San Jose a year or so ago an automobile wrecker bought a machine that was exceedingly erratic, so much so that the owner became disgusted and sold it. The wrecker in dissecting the cranky auto found the radiator filled with wine. What the auto would have done if inspired by some of the aforementioned brands of elation is a matter of imagination. But if the wine was simply a cause for erratic motion the lightning inspiration of these later concoctions certainly would have developed an aviating auto.

HIGHTOWER TRIAL SET FOR OCTOBER 3

The trial of William A. Hightower has been set for October 3. When the alleged slayer of Father Heslin appeared in the superior court on Tuesday to plead he was greeted by a big crowd that had assembled in the court room to see the noted criminal. There was scarcely standing room when Jailer James Coleman came into court with the prisoner. He plead not guilty. His attorney, Senator Emmons of Bakersfield, consented to have the trial set for October 3.

Hightower will be defended by Senator Emmons, W. F. Herron, W. W. Laidley and Albert Mansfield, city attorney of Redwood City.

Numerous anonymous letters continue to be received by the authorities here, esveral of them purporting to be "confesisons' 'of the slaying of Father Heslin. None is being taken seriously by Swart.

JUVENILE CRIMINALS BEFORE JUDGE BUCK

Five South San Francisco boys were in the juvenile court here on Wednesday to answer to a charge of improper conduct toward a 15-year-old girl at that city. The girl is a ward of the asosciated charities and was put in a home near there to attend school in South San Francisco. The boys range from 14 to 17 years of age. All were put under probation and the two oldest, who are 17 years old, were sentenced to pay $10 a month each for a year for the care of the girl, who is now in the hospital. All the boys and their parents were in court and the father and mother of each was instructed to see that their son kept away from the poolrooms, stayed home evenings and attended church for a year. City Marshal C. C. Conrad of South San Francisco was reprimanded by the judge for neglecting to enforce the curfew ordinance.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT ON PORTOLA ROAD

The most serious automobile accident occurring in San Mateo county over the week end took place Monday night on the Portola road near the Searsville lake, when Harry J. Schober, a San Francisco restaurant man, was killed and his wife seriously injured after the machine in which they were riding was apparently crowded off the road and sent tumbling down a steep embankment. R. C. Ralph, chauffeur for A. W. Jackson, who was riding with the Schobers, was uninjured. Schober died from a broken back. Mrs. Schober suffered broken ribs and internal injuries.

DEER SEASON CLOSES SEPT. 14---HUNTERS HAVE GOOD LUCK

The deer season will close on Wednesday, September 14, at midnigt. It opened on August 1 and since then hunters have killed many of the antlered beatuies in this county. The season has been a good one, deer being quite plentiful in the mountain districts of San Mateo county.

The dove season began on the first of the month and will continue during the month of October. Many of the sportsmen maintain that the dove season should open a month earlier, as the birds are then more plentiful than at this time of the year.

The valley quail season begins this year on November 1 and will continue until January 15.

Ducks, geese, jacksnipe and mudhens may be shot from October 1 to January 15.

Rabbits, cottontail and bush rabbits from November 1 to January 15.

"SLUG THE SLUG" IS TATE'S SLOGAN

The slug that is so destructive to vegetables, flowers and nearly all plant life is soon to be exterminated. J. W. Tate, county horticultural commisisoner, has discovered a remedy that will put this nuisance out of commission. Mr. Tate has been experimenting for some time and was at his wits' end to find something to stop the destructiveness of this little marauder. After much thought and many trials he found that calcium arnesate sprinkled thickly on fresh cucumber will do the trick. At night this should be placed in the beds and removed in the morning, as the slug feeds at night. Mr. Tate has used this remedy in many places on the peninsula where the slug was thickest and found it to be very successful. He highly recommends this remedy.

The slug is a deadly enemy of the choice plants and vegetables. Gardens have been ruined by them over night. The extirpation of the slug will be a godsend to the gardeners of the community. Slug the slug.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SCHMOLL, SAN MATEO COUNTY PIONEER

All that was mortal of Mrs. Caroline Schmoll, a San Mateo county pioneer woman, was laid away in Cypress Lawn cemetery Thursday afternoon in the family plot where rest her husband and two of her children who had gone before.

The funeral obsequies were held at the late residence of Mrs. Schmoll at 519 Marshall stret. Many old time friends and neighbors gathered there to pay their last respects to the aged woman who had been a resident of this community so long.

Rev. W. A. Brewer of Burlingame paid a splendid tribute to the character of the deceased, telling of her many acts of kindness during her long and useful life.

The following old time friends and neighbors acted as pall bearers: P. A. Ryan, L. Werder, A. Hess, A. D. Walsh, Asa Hull and Edward S. Gould.

The beautiful floral tributes contributed show how well the deceased was held by her friends.

Mrs. Schmoll saw the light of day in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1835. She came to California with her parents in 1852, locating in San Francisco. Her father, Adam Sweigert, became prominent in the affairs of that city.

Mrs. Schmoll is survived by her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Schaberg, of Redwood City, and a son, George Schmoll, of San Francisco, and a granddaughter, Miss Nellie Schmoll, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Schmoll was a woman of the highest ideals, a devoted mother, loving wife and congenial companion. She was loved by all. None knew her but to love her for her numerous good qualities of heart and mind. Mrs. Schmoll will long be remembered by her friends and acquaintances.

In 1860 the family moved to San Mateo county, settling first in the Canada, near Byrnes' store, and two years later going to Belmont, where Mrs. Schmoll continued to make her home until the death of her husband, John Schmoll, in 1903. Since that time the deceased had been making her home with her daughter in this city. Mrs. Schmoll was 86 years of age.

SAN MATEO DISTRICT BEATS HIGH SCHOOL BONDS

By a vote of 1,247 for and 701 against, the proposed $500,000 bond issue for the San Mateo Union High School district was last Friday rejected by the people.

The machine, which was responsible for the defeat of the bonds, had little difficulty in casting aside the plans of the high school board of education as recommended by the advisory committee to provide modern and adequate facilities for the present and future children of high school age in the district.

The total vote cast was 1,948. Two-thirds of that number, or 1,299, were required to carry the bonds. Fifty-two voters by their negative vote therefore decided for the 6,500 registered voters of the district the most important school question that has been before the people in many years.

The surprising part of the election was the vote in Burlingame, where the vote was expected to be almost solid in favor of the bonds, it being contended that the plan was all in favor of that particular section of the district. In the great register of San Mateo county Burlingame had a total registration of 1,938 voters. Of these 688 took enough interest in the question to go to the polls, 538 voting in favor of the bonds and 150 against.

The bond election held in Redwood City on August 26 to raise $300,000 for a new high school building was carried by a vote of 889 for and 18 against. In Redwood City there was scarcely any opposition to the bonds, while at San Mateo considerable opposition appeared from the different factions of that locality and they organized to defeat the proposition.

JOSEPH J. BULLOCK OPENS NEW LAW OFFICES

Joseph J. Bullock, the well known attorney, who for the past 25 years has had his office in the Lipp building on Main street, has opened new offices in the Stafford building on Broadway. The change of location is another indication that professional as well as business men desire to be near the postoffice, the usual center of business activity.

The new offices of Mr. Bullock are within a block of both the superior and justice court, directly opposite the postoffice and close to the railroad station, making the location an ideal one for a lawyer.

Four large and elegant rooms, elegantly carpeted, elaborately furnished and equipped with all the modern conveniences necessarily required of a busy lawyer, will materially asiest Mr. Bullock in attending to his large law practice. Mr. Bullock's law library consists of several thousand volumes and fills two large rooms and is considered one of the largest law libraries outside of San Francisco.

The change became necessary on account of more room space being required to handle and accommodate his large clientele.

Musicians residing in this vicinity are once more requested to attend rehearsal in the central grammar school on Monday evening at 7:45. Anyon who can play any orchestral instrument is urged to attend and violinists are particularly wanted.

A self appointed committee consisting of Father C. E. Kennedy, Peirce Coombes and Clifton Woodhamsc is working on the project now, but as soon a sall interested can be assembled an organization will be effected. It is located on a high elevation overlooking all of the Santa Clara Valley. One may have a picturesque view of five counties from the veranda of the home. SHORTRIDGE IS EUPHONIC

The National Republican, published in Washington, D. C., in a recent issue devotes a whole page to the achievements of California's junior senator, S. M. Shortridge. It speaks of Mr. Shortridge as a great booster for the state. In this connection it says:

Enter his private office in Washington. You are mentally transported to orange and lemon groves, for a mammoth picture of thousands of acres from the southern part of the state confronts you from the opposite wall. Turn to the right and you see the picture of a redwood tree with a huge tunnel cut in its trunk through which pass teams and teams of horses hitched to a lumber wagon. To the left the grandeur of a waterfall in Yosemite looks you in the eye. The senator, too, looks you firmly in the eye and asks you fervently, "Did you ever see anything like that—anywhere?" The answer is his, "You never did."

When describing California to the visitor at his office he makes his auditor feel the lure of the state with its sunny playgrounds for the world tourists and its balmy breezes for the unfortunate ill. His eloquence on this subject is more attractive than the descriptions in a railroad folder. He is apt in describing the moods of California, and fitting them to the moods of the moment. Is he called upon to dedicate a grand pipe organ in San Diego, he responds with musical language "within the hearing of yonder ocean billows whose billows break with rhythmic cadence on Coronado sands." Euphony, thy name is Shortridge!

THE DUMBARTON BRIDGE

The necessity of the construction of the Dumbarton bridge is becoming more and more apparent every day. The entire peninsula would be greatly benefited by it. San Francisco would feel its beneficial effects.

The Civic League of Improvement Clubs and Associations of San Francisco in its monthly bulletin for August has the following timely article:

Irrespective of the location of the transbay bridge all mainland traffic from San Francisco or the east bay communities must go south and thence through Niles Canyon and Livermore Valley to reach its destination.

Southbound traffic which under any and all circumstances must go through Niles Canyon, the only natural pass in the east bay "Chinese Wall," can best be accommodated by constructing the proposed Dumbarton bridge, costing not to exceed a million dollars. Dumbarton bridge is the one great project that can and should be put over at this time to permit of natural intercommunication between the peninsula and the great interior of the state of California.

The Dumbarton bridge could be reached by automobile from the city in approximately the same amount of time now occupied in the actual ferry trip across the bay, without taking into consideration the necessary loss of time consumed in waiting to board the ferry boat, whether that wait be three minutes or three hours.

Imagine starting from your home at any time you please, or when most convenient, and in 45 minutes be crossing the bay without a moment's necessary or unnecessary delay!

Over 75 per cent of the transbay automobile traffic is not destined to Oakland, but through Oakland.

This being the fact, why the necessity at this time of a great bridge at the widest part of the bay, entailing a cost of many millions to be procured only at the present day prohibitive figures of interest, discount and commission, when the relief necessary to this 75 per cent of present traffic can be procured by locating a bridge at the logical point where the bay is narrowest and, where nature herself has opened the way through the mountain range?

Dumbarton bridge will not deflect a single vehicle having Oakland for its destination from its proper course; no injury, therefore, will be placed upon the east bay communities, but every vehicle with San Francisco for its goal can save time and mileage by not having to go through congested cities with a maze of traffic compelling slow speed, followed by a tedious wait and long passage across the bay by boat, when by means of this bridge the San Francisco limits could be reached in the same time now required to reach the outskirts of the east bay cities.

A broad conception of the San Francisco peninsula's problem impels the conclusion that its solution must include the establishment of direct trade and traffic routes to make the entire interior California immediately tributary to San Francisco by establishing these routes, so that they will be the easiest channels for traffic and trade.

A study of the topography of the east side of the bay shows that Oakland has its "Chinese Wall," virtually creating another neck to the bottle, which San Francisco traffic via Oakland must get through. The most logical, practical and easiest route to first establish for the accommodation of all characters of traffic is via a bridge across the San Francisco bay in the neighborhood of the present Dumbarton bridge which now accommodates only one class of traffic.

It has been estimated that the construction of an additional bridge to accommodate the various classes of traffic across Dumbarton would cost approximately a million dollars.

Nature has dictated the route, necessity demands its establishment and the procedure necessary to the accomplishment is simple and clear. The opportune time is now.

The construction of Dumbarton bridge and the establishment of this route is possible of quick accomplishment and will afford a relief to traffic that it is impossible to accomplish in the same length of time by any other route.

While this project is being worked out, San Mateo county should determine and adopt a comprehensive plan to develop and perfect its motor roads and highways down the peninsula, so that the approach to the Dumbarton bridge may accommodate the created traffic demands of that facility.

Another bridge at Dumbarton is feasible. There is one there now. That proves it. The Civic League of Improvement Clubs and Associations has been at work on the matter of financing since last November and its consulting engineer, Charles T. Phillips, is now engaged in presenting the matter to certain interests that make a business of putting over just such projects.

The estimated cost of this bridge at a location where the bay is narrowest and where a firm foundation exists for the proposed structure does not exceed figures, which compared to the cost of other projects, are most modest when considering the enormous benefits that will result. In this plan it is proposed also to build a highway from Newark to the eastern shore of the bay and connecting with the existing roadways from Redwood City. This bridge will be located about a mile south of the Southern Pacific railroad trestle and would be a concrete structure similar to the causeway over the Yolo by-pass near Sacramento, over the shallow waters, with a center drawbridge or a bascule bridge over the waterway.

SAN CARLOS

Miss Helen Lysle, who has been visiting with her college chum, Miss Vera Boyd, has returned to her home in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ada Shafer of the Tate Tea Rooms has returned from a week's visit with friends and relatives in Sacramento.

Mrs. Lester A. Conklin left last week for a protracted visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Brown in Minden, Nev., the town made famous by the "sweetheart of America" by ehr short sojourn in the sagebrush town.

Mrs. Mary E. Quinn, president of the parent-teacher association, and her three daughters, Misses Ellen, Janett and Edith, have returned from an enjoyable outing at Carlos retreat, Lake Tahoe.

H. F. McGowan of San Mateo has the contract for the plumbing in the W. C. Johnson home which is being built by R. P. Hurlbut, contractor.

Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell, who has been on an extended visit in the east and middle west, was here for a few days' visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. L. Bruner, before returning to Los Angeles to resume her work as a teacher in one of the schools in the south.

J. Lopez, a rancher near Finger's bridge, Redwood City, has received a large shipment of pipe through the San Carlos agency. He expects to use it in extending his irrigation system.

At the last meeting of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce the following names were placed in nomination to be voted upon at the next meeting of the chamber to fill the offices for the coming year: Asa E. Hull, president; C. E. Haydock, F. W. Otto and H. Schomer, first vice president, second vice president and third vice president; John V. Clark, treasurer; J. E. Cowgill and Victor V. Vurpalat, secretary-manager; for board of directors, John G. Null, F. H. Drake, Robert L. Simpson, D. L. Stewart, John A. Boyd, Lyle G. Clark, J. J. Mitchell, Thomas Plowman, Jno. Towers, E. L. Bruner, Andrew J. Johnson, Karl K. Winter, Charles S. Carr and Charles McNeill. Messrs. Drake, Andruss and Towers were appointed on a committee to take up the question of excessive bus fares now in effect between Belmont, San Carlos, Redwood City, Menlo Park and Palo Alto with the chambers of commerce of Redwood City, Menlo Park and Palo Alto in an effort to bring about a reduction. The entertainment committee, Stewart, Clark and Hosmer, were instructed to arrange for a free dance and entertainment for the night of Saturday, September 10. As the first of its kind given under the auspices of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce this dance and entertainment promises to be something unique and a very delightful affair. There will be many surprises in store for those who are fortunate enough to attend Ice cream and other refreshments will be served by the Mesdames Tate and Shafer of the popular Tate tea room.

Street Commissioner John V. Clark and his bride left last Tuesday morning for Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, to enjoy a month's outing in celebration of their thirtieth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. A. E. Bottrell, who leased her place and went to Yuma, Ariz., for the benefit of Mr. Botterell's health, and who has been making her home in Southern California since her husband's death, has returned to take up her residence in San Carlos again.

Dr. John G. Null returned home last Wednesday from his hunting trip in the wilds of Modoc and Siskiyou counties. The doctor reports having a good time and he brought the bacon home with him as evidence of his good marksmanship, having got the limit. Everyone is glad to see the doctor back, as they had a hard time keeping well while he was away.

Dan Davidson, the famous ace and air pilot, is here as instructor at the Varney fields during the absence of Chief Pilot Andrews at the state fair. Dan is well known in San Carlos, having been one of the first flyers on the San Carlos fields at the time the school was established here in 1914 by Major J. Paulding Edwards.

The Tate tea romos did a rushing business at their first opening last Sunday and the following Labor Day.

As state president of the National League of Postmasters, John E. Cowgill is being solicited by the traffic representatives of all the transcontinental lines in the country in an effort to secure the delegation for California to the national convention which meets in Washington, D. C., in October, over their particular lines. These fellows are not wise to the fact that Cowgill is also a railroad man and is very likely to influence the delegates to go Southern Pacific as far as they can.

SUPERVISORS TRANSACT IMPORTANT BUSINESS MATTERS

The board of supervisors met in regular session Tuesday, September 6, 1921, at 10 a. m.

The county horticultural commissioner, A. T. Tate, submitted his report for the month of August, 1921, in which he stated that a survey of the county had been made with regard to crops and the number of acres of land planted. The most valuable of the crops in the county, the survey showed, is the artichoke on the coast side, which is estimated at $1,500,000. This industry, he stated, has suffered a loss of $200,000 from the artichoke moth during the past year. The report showed that 14 shipments of 4,851 plants and 19 shipments of 296 packages of seeds inspected from California points and 8 shipments of 13,338 plants and 9 shipments of 83 packages of seeds inspected from points outside the state.

A communication was received from the county social service commission recommending that the board reconsider the resignation of Miss Margaret Loftus as county nurse, submitted several meetings ago, and that she be reconsidered for that position. On motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, the recommendation of the commission was accepted and the reappointment of Miss Loftus made.

On the recommendation of the social service commisison and on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, Miss Helen M. Anderson was appointed matron of the county emergency hospital at a salary of $90 a month, the appointment to take effect August 14.

The following bids were opened for the construction of two concrete retaining walls on the La Honda to San Gregorio road, one near Bonzagni's Lodge and the other near Station 55, both in the third township:

A. Mattson, $2,492, wall near Bonzagni's; $986, wall near Station 55.

Mattson's bids being the lowest and only ones submitted and they being under the engineers' estimate, the contracts were awarded to him, on motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey.

The following bids were received and opened for the construction of a concrete retaining wall on the Montara to Halfmoon Bay road, near to Princeton in the fourth township:

A. Mattson, $905; M. P. Dutra, $1,007.

The bid of Mattson being the lowest submitted and being under the engineer's estimate, the contract was awarded to him, on motion of Supervisor Francis, seconded by Supervisor Brown.

The following bids were opened for the construction of a concrete box culvert across Cordellerous creek, near the H. C. Finkler place in the second township:

G. Tocchetti, $1,815; F. B. Hamilton, $2 295; A. Mattson, $2,742.

The bid of Tocchetti being the lowest and best bid, the contract was awarde to him on motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Francis.

William B. Hoag, representing the San Mateo Improvement Company, presented the map of Glazenwood, a new subdivision, formerly the Peninsula Hotel grounds, at San Mateo, which Hoag asked the board to approve and accept. A resolution carrying out the request was adopted, on motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Francis.

County Engineer George A. Kneese presented plans and specifications for a slope protection wall on the Colma to Halfmoon Bay road, near Station 67. The plans and specifications were adopted, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Superivsor MacBain, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to advertise for bids for the work.

A communication was received from the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations urging the appropriation of $1,500 by the supervisors for the purpose of securing an industrial survey of San Mateo county by Dr. Cottrell of Stanford University, in conjunction with Stanford students and Dr. Rastell of San Francisco. A resolution from the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce endorsing the above survey was also read.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and stated that he thought the idea was a good one, but the board should have time to consider the proposition. On his motion, seconded by Supervisor Brown, the matter was continued until the meeting of the board on Monday, September 19.

A communication was received from Mrs. Jennie A. Brooke, secretary of the general committee of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of San Mateo county, inviting each of the supervisors to the big celebration to be held at Halfmoon Bay Friday, September 9. The communication was ordered filed and Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to accept the invitation on behalf of the board.

A communication was received from Mrs. A. C. Aubrey, chairman of the San Mateo County Federation of Women's Clubs, stating that that body had adopted resolutions at its meeting Friday, September 2, opposing the operating of the venders of fruit and flowers on the highways of the couty and asking the supervisors to pass an ordinance to prevent the sale of fruits and flowers on the highways.

On motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, the communication was ordered referred to District Attorney Swart.

Certificates of result of the election held at Hillsborough on July 29, 1921, to vote on the proposition of annexing certain uninhabited territory to that town, was submitted to the board, showing that the election had carried by a vote of 14 to 0. The returns were ordered filed, on motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Francis.

A communication was received from J. L. Hinkle of Runnymede, calling attention to the unsafe condition of a bridge across the San Francisquito creek on University avenue at that place, and asking that steps be taken to repair the same.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and explained that the road on which the bridge in question is located had never been accepted by the county, it having been built some years ago by J. F. Parkinson of Palo Alto. He stated that he had been asked by the people of Runnymede to block the San Mateo county side of the structure, but that he did not want to take action without the consent of the board. Permission to close the bridge was given by the board, on motion of Supervisor Hickey, seconded by Supervisor Brown.

The board took up at this time the matter of fixing the county tax rate for the fiscal year 1921-22. After a careful consideration of the auditor's estimate, a roll call vote was taken on the various items separately or in groups and the rates for the different purposes established. These rates are shown in the resolution adopted later in the sesison by the board.

It was moved by Supervisor Brown and seconded by Supervisor Francis that a special tax of 23 cents on each $100 be levied to complete the construction of the coast side highway from Pescadero to the Santa Cruz county line.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board in reference to the motion and stated that he did not think it proper to levy this amount of tax now, claiming that it would be impossible to do the work laid out. He offered an amendment that a levy of 14½ cents be made this year to start the work. The amendment was seconded by Supervisor Hickey and on roll call was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Hickey and MacBain.

Noes—Brown, Francis and Thompson.

The roll call on the original motion resulted as follows:

Ayes—Brown, Francis and Thompson.

Noes—Hickey and MacBain.

It was moved by Hickey and seconded by MacBain that a special tax of 9 cents be levied to reconstruct the highway from Colma to South San Francisco, back of the cemeteries. In support of his motion Supervisor Hickey argued that this stretch of road would form a link for the proposed east side highway and would help relieve the congestion of traffic in the north end of the county.

C. E. Henderson, superintendent of Cypress Lawn cemetery, addressed the board in support of the motion of Supervisor Hickey, speaking of the importance of road development down the peninsula, especially in the north end, in order to solve the serious traffic problems now confronting the county.

Supervisor Hickey said he was not opposed to the 23-cent levy for the Pescadero road because he was against the improvement, but he felt that if part of the money were voted now in order that the work could be started, then an additional appropriation could be made after next July in order to complete it. The road in the north end, Supervisor Hickey stated, would probably cost $60,000, half of which amount the first road district would pay.

The motion to levy the 9-cent special tax for the north end was lost on roll call by the following vote:

Aye—Hickey.

Noes—Brown, MacBain, Francis and Thompson.

Supervisor MacBain explained that he seconded the motion of Supervisor Hickey to levy the tax in order to get the question before the board and that he voted against the proposition because he did not want to raise the total taxes any more than they are.

J. J. McGrath, president of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations, and the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce, addressed the board in the matter of the proposed east side highway, urging the supervisors to go on record at this meeting that they intended to proceed with the actual construction of the road at as early a date as possible.

Daniel C. Imboden, manager of the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce and executive secretary of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce, also addressed the board in the matter of financing the project go on record at this time committing themselves to the building of the new parallel highway.

Supervisor MacBain said he was certain that every member of the board was strongly in favor of building the proposed highway, but that the amtter of financing the project would have to be considered. He gave as his opinion that the money would have to be raised by bond issue, as the numerous direct taxation propositions coming upon the different districts of the county was already making the total tax rate high.

Supervisor Brown explained that the board had already gone on record as favoring the construction of the east side highway, which the minutes would show.

Chairman Thompson said he was certain every member of the board was in favor of the proposed road, and that action toward its construction would be started just as soon as possible.

The resolution establishing the tax rate was adopted on motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Francis, Supervisor Hickey voting no on roll call. It makes the following rates:

S. M. Shortridge, Jr., Resumes His Studies—Wealthy N. Y. Business Man Locates in Menlo Park—Mrs. J. Swanson Passes—Farewell for Welsh Family Academy of Sacred Heart Changed to College and Convent of the Sacred Heart—Charles Holbrook Celebrates 91st Birthday—St. Patrick's Seminary Opens September 7—Many Other Items of Interest.

Samuel M. Shortridge, Jr., resumed his studies at Hastings Law School last week. On Saturday he was elected president of the second class at the regular meeting of the class. This is quite an honor for the young man, who has a good legal mind and who has a decided liking for the profession in which his father is so distinguished a member.

Mr. Hart, a wealthy New York business man, has leased the McNear home on Ringwood road for a period of a year. Mrs. Jessie Porter, who has occupied the place all summer, will remove to her home in the city today. She was delighted with this community and may purchase a home here. The Harts are very wealthy.

Mrs. J. Swanson, who was known here thirty years ago as Mrs. Tillie Gunther, passed away in San Jose last Saturday and was buried Tuesday. Many of the old timers who had known her in those bygone days attended the funeral obsequies. When here she was the housekeeper at the Mulo Park Hotel at the time it was conducted by Captain Sweatman, a retired officer in the English army. After his death here she went to San Jose, afterward marrying Mr. Swanson, who became wealthy in the sale of San Jose real estate. David Litchie, a noted character in those days, was a clerk at the hotel. He was a dancing professor. Many of the old timers will recall the many pleasant dances conducted by him in the dining room of the hotel in those happy days gone by. He has long since passed over the great divide to join those kindred spirits in that happy land beyond. Mrs. Swanson's son, Charles Gunther, was a little boy then, but he grew to manhood in San Francisco, where he is now a prosperous contractor. He is the international agent for the Bricklayers' and Lathers' Union.

Rex Welsh and family were given a farewell party at Trinity Hall on Wednesday evening. They leave on Tuesday next for Los Angeles, where Mr. Welsh will complete his dental studies. He is an overseas veteran and for some time has been attending Stanford. The family has resided in the McNally cottage on the highway. Mr. Welsh took an active interest in the Boy Scouts and recently conducted a company to the Yosemite Valley. The departure of the Welsh family is a matter of deep regret.

Miss Helen Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Strong, returned home Tuesday from her summer vacation spent with her aunt at Turlock. Miss Strong will graduate next term, when she will become a Menlo Park debutante.

By a superior court order of this county on August 23 the Academy of the Sacred Heart of Menlo Park, a corporation, has been changed to be called the College and Convent of the Sacred Heart. A full college course will be given at this famous institution of learning. Among the corps of teachers will be Father George Lacombe, pastor of the Mayfield church, who will hold a chair of history and French, and a number of Stanford professors. The institution is to be one of the best in the country for the education of young ladies. It will have no equal.

Charles Holbrook celebrated his 91st birthday quietly at his home here last Wednesday. Only a few relatives and friends were present to help celebrate. Mr. Holbrook was the founder of the firm of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson of San Francisco.

For the birthday feast a large table was decorated with a profusion of flowers and at the head of the table a huge birthday cake. Among the bidden guests were Mr. and Mrs. Silas Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Knight, Harry Holbrook and his daughter, Miss Hariet Holbrook, who are members of his immediate family, and Mrs. John Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill, Mrs. Anna Hildesley and John Lardner. Many handsome presents were showered on the pioneer San Francisco business man.

Mrs. Kenneth McIntosh and baby daughter are visiting at the home of Mrs. McIntosh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dearborn Clark, in Menlo Park.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Cluness will return to San Francisoc the first of the month from Atherton, where they have been summering.

St. Patrick's Seminary will open on September 7 for admisison of the junior college members and on September 17 for the seminarians. The Coleman mansion has been leased for two years and will be used as a dormitory for the junior classes.

Captain Whittaker of the local fire department has purchased a Chevrolet for his private use. He is an expert at the wheel.

The barber shop in the Maloney block was sold this week to a Stockton tonsorial artist who is to expend the sum of $1,500 in remodeling the old shop. Every store in the Maloney block has been rented. Menlo Park has begun to experience a mild boom. Every vacant store has been rented and as for houses there is none to be had. Every day applications are being made to the local real estate offices, but there is not a vacant house on the peninsula.

"I realized the folly of placing 'my eggs all in one basket.' I fortified myself against the untoward exigencies of the future. I placed $100,000 in trust as an anchor to windward—a haven of safety in the event of business failure, financial depressions, ill health or complete disability."

Every thoughtful, practical business or professional man should establish a living trust for the benefit of himself and his dependents.
